

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Our thanks extend in many directions: to Al Gini, Managing Editor of Business Ethics Quarterly, for invaluable advice in organizing the first collection and in developing this enlarged anthology; to Patricia Werhane, former Editor-in-Chief of Business Ethics Quarterly, for encouraging this effort with her abundant enthusiasm; to Lori Fells at the Philosophy Documentation Center for helpful answers to every question; to Marijka Belgum-Gabbert for careful editorial assistance; and to Dean Elizabeth Bull Danielson and Associate Dean James Postema of Concordia College for providing the funds necessary to complete this project.

Our largest debt is to the peer reviewers, most of whom made time to pore over manuscripts two or three times, and some of whom graciously consented to review more than one manuscript: Rachel Adler, Claude Burtenshaw, Carnegie Samuel Calian, Paul Camenisch, Gerald Cavanagh, SJ, Richard T.
