

Techné:
Research in Philosophy and Technology
Volume 26, Issue 1 (2022)

Articles

What Does It Mean for a Robot to Be Respectful? Dina Babushkina .....	1
Technological Change and Human Obsolescence: An Axiological Analysis John Danaher .....	31
Postphenomenology or Essentialism? An Exploration of Inuit Commercialization of Country Foods through Facebook Alexander Castleton .....	57
Infrastructure, Modulation, Portal: Thinking with Foucault about how Internet Architecture Shapes Subjects Gordon Hull .....	84
Decolonial Approaches to Technical Design: Building Other Possible Worlds and Widening Philosophy of Technology Cristiano Cordeiro Cruz .....	115
Alienation and Recognition: The $\Delta$ Phenomenology of the Human–Social Robot Interaction (HSRI) Piercosma Bisconti and Antonio Carnevale .....	147
Special Section on Technology and Pandemic
Accommodating Ourselves to Death: COVID and the Threat of Technological Solutions to Human Crises Nolen Gertz .....	172
Feminist Moral Tensions for a Nomadic Subject: Navigating the Pandemic Jill Drouillard .....	181

Book Reviews

The Good Life after the Narrative Turn

Review of Narrative and Technology Ethics,

by Wessel Reijers and Mark Coeckelbergh

Michał Wieczorek ..... 190

The Origin and Evolution of Philosophy of Technology:

Comments on The Thoughtful History of Philosophy of

Technology

Review of The Thoughtful History of Philosophy of Technology, edited by Chen Fan and Zhu Chunyan

Pan Baojun..... 197