

❖ Exaltation of the Singular Human Person over the Species and Human Society, over the Universe, and over the Church3

Fr. Julio Meinvielle, Ph.D., S.T.D.

- I. The human person's superiority over the universe doesn't follow from the fact that he reaches God by means of his personal acts8
- II. It does not follow that because the human person is intentionally identified with God that he has superiority over the Church15
- III. After reaching God, the Common Good, the human person necessarily takes up the condition of part...20
- IV. Superiority of the universe of grace and of nature over the singular person.....27
- V. The superiority of the universal order requires the subjection of some angelic or human persons to others34
- VI. It does not follow from the fact that the singular person is an image of God that he is superior to the universe37
- VII. Maritain does not show how the person as such is opposed to its condition as part.....40
- VIII. The State, the universal cause of the perfecting of the singular human person, is superior to the person48
- IX. The singular person, part of the whole that is the state, cannot be superior to the state52
- X. Maritain falsely imagines that the common good is poured out or redistributed in singular persons.....55
- XI. The lack of a complete ordering of the singular person to the societal whole does not show the person's superiority.....58
- XII. From the fact that man does not exist for the city, but rather the city for man, it does not follow that the singular person is superior to the city.....	70

XIII. The superiority of the contemplative life which pertains to the singular person does not show the singular person's superiority over the state	80
XIV. The efficient causes of man's supernatural perfecting.....	85
❖ The Crisis of Theology is the Crisis of Philosophy: Luther's Replacement of the Analogia Entis with the "New Logic of Becoming"	93
Alma von Stockhausen
I. Luther's Denial of Freedom and the Attribution of Evil to God	97
II. Hegel's Abolition of Theology in Dialectical Philosophy.....	99
III. Rahner's Dialectical Theology/Cosmology of Evolution	103
IV. Sublation of Personal Dignity and Family.....	104
V. Without Hegel, no Darwin.....	107
VI. The theory of evolution as touchstone of truth.....	108
VII. The endless drive—the "immense power of the Negative" as "substance of Existence altogether"	111
❖ Analysis of the Fabrian "I"	121
Fr. Alberto Barattero, IV/E, Ph.D.
I. Existentialism	123
II. Existential analytic	124
III. Towards the foundation in the existential realm	126
IV. Two complementary spheres.....	130
V. The existential constitution of the "I" through wanting.....	133
VI. Wanting "to want"	138
VII. Absoluteness of the "I".....	141
1. Characteristics of "I"	141
2. Determination of the radical "I" and distinction from the other "I"	144

Conclusion.....	146
❖ Process Theology and its “application” to Catholic Fundamental Theology	151
Fr. Marcelo J. Navarro, IVE
I. Process Philosophy and Process Theology	153
II. Process Theology as a Contemporary Approach to Fundamental Theology	155
III. Fabro on Whitehead (and Hartshorne) on the section of Anglo-American Empiricism	162
Conclusion.....	165
❖ The Mercy of God in the Act of the Incarnation According to St. Thomas Aquinas	169
Sr. Maria Thalassa Davidson
Introduction	171
I. Essence of Mercy.....	172
1. The Virtue of Mercy in Man	175
2. Mercy in God	177
II. The Incarnation.....	179
1. Original Sin.....	179
2. The Humanity of the Redeemer	184
3. The Incarnation as the Remedy for Original Sin.....	186
4. Consummatum Est	189
5. God’s Perfect Act of Mercy.....	191
6. Mary, the Mother of Mercy	194
Conclusion.....	195

Book Reviews

— Jamie Bartlett; The People Vs Tech: How the Internet is Killing Democracy (and How We Save It)	204
— Cornelio Fabro; Dio. Introduzione al problema teologico	208
— Matt Fradd and Robert Delfino; Does God Exist? A Socratic Dialogue on the Five Ways of Thomas Aquinas	216

— Pierre-Marie Hombert; La Création chez les Pères de l'Église, Parole et Silence	220
— Kevin Vost, Psy.D.; How to Think Like Aquinas: The Sure Way to Perfect Your Mental Powers	223